Cymetrix Announces Partnership to Provide CHRISTUS Health with Revenue Cycle Management Support

Unique partnership will accelerate the next level of financial performance improvement for one of the nation's top ten Catholic health systems.

IRVINE, CA – February 23, 2010 – Cymetrix, a industry leader providing hospitals and health care networks with adaptive revenue cycle management solutions, today announced a partnership agreement with CHRISTUS Health. CHRISTUS Health and Cymetrix will collaborate on a unique revenue cycle management model for the five-hospital CHRISTUS Santa Rosa Health System.

The model deploys a combination of best practice processes including proprietary and leading practice commercial technologies with a team of revenue cycle specialists to optimize financial performance and profitability.

As a result of this new agreement, Cymetrix will assume responsibility for the management and functional oversight of Patient Access, Health Information Management and Patient Financial Services for CHRISTUS Santa Rosa Health System.

This is a unique partnership, which utilizes CHRISTUS Health's support at their state-of-art central business office, deployed by Jay Herron, CHRISTUS Health senior vice president and chief financial officer, and Kaycee Orman, CHRISTUS Health executive director, Revenue Cycle Services. Cymetrix will leverage this resource by incorporating its extensive experience in deploying new processes and technology to facilitate front-end process redesign. The combined effort will accelerate the next level of financial performance and improvement.

"We're excited about having the best that both CHRISTUS Health and Cymetrix have to offer in moving our revenue cycle from good to great," said Bill Pack, regional vice-president and CFO of CHRISTUS Santa Rosa Health System.

"Being selected by CHRISTUS Health to provide revenue cycle management support is an honor," Michael Halberda, president and CEO of Cymetrix. "This new, innovative partnership validates their trust in our team's ability to help them achieve world-class revenue cycle performance."
